

A thought of the day in passing . . .

ENDLESS STORY

God was love clarity and bliss, but all alone.
So he made Himself women, children and men.

God liked stories,
And He dreamed of adventures
To put all of them in.

He made up games with rules and rewards
That they could play, compete to win.

But He always knew the endings
And that diminished the fun.

So he gave his people free will
And let them join in the game.

ENLIGHTENMENT

The book; ENLIGHTENMENT, will be reprinted page by page daily on this site free and in full. For the less patient, the book may be purchased in full from Bookstore.

ENLIGHTENMENT by Tara

Life . . . is a stream of consciousness from the mind of God.

Oct 1, 2009 Day 41

From the book; ENLIGHTENMENT, all rights reserved by Bhagavan Fdn