

A thought of the day in passing . . .

ONENESS

We are one,
One and the same.
No doubt about it;
In God,
In our essence and origin,
In our humanity.

But that's only half the story.
We are multiplicity.
We are unique,
Separate,
Like cells; dividing and rejoining,
In great combinations
Of our diversity.

This was done - intentionally.
I propose to you it was for
The simple joy of relationship,
For the adventure - and exploration
Of our possibilities in individuality.
And, the immense, the ineffable joy –
Of re-union.

ENLIGHTENMENT

by Tara

Ahhh, I see it all now. Essentially, I'm a thought! So are you. Together we exist as a very complex prolonged thought pattern within a greater, more complex thought pattern. Our world and bodies are manifested symbols of said thought, come from worlds of spirit. At our core we are simply unconceptualized thought. . . pure God-ness!
