THE BEST GAME IN TOWN (But not the only dream)

Segment 2

Essentially all religions are about two things; 'how to live' and 'how it all came to be'. All of these set down doctrines on such for the dream participants. All vie to win in a game of rulership of 'The World Mind' in shaping the world's dream. Most, if not all, of these religions, in their functioning bodies, are in a deep sleep.

So, we have currently operative, 'The Dream,' within which is a current world ideology, underlain with a multitude of subsidiary religious-dreams, followed by innumerable layers of other belief groupings. These are Cultural beliefs, shaped by ancestry, geography and shared history; Political beliefs, formed by birth and personal propensities; Peer beliefs, based on ones placement in time and growth progression; and lastly, Personal beliefs, formed out of one's personal psychology, accepted ideas, and image of self in relationship to others and life. All this running concurrently, synchronically, like gears in a great cosmic clock . . . and every individual is simultaneously playing in great numbers of them.

All these beliefs are ideas . . . merely Ideas . . . that exist in the mind and all are 'believed as true' and actually taken to be reality. Hmmm. Think of that! Never mind that they may not all agree, or even make good sense. 'The Dream' is a bewitchment of the dreamers. In their sleep and believing their dreaming to be real, they completely forget their 'True Reality'.
