

A thought of the day in passing . . .

An Indian sage met on the road once said to me . . .

"If you see a drowning man, stand on the shore, throw him a rope, do not jump in after him."

I AND OTHER

In spirit we are ONE. While in body we are free sovereign souls with a developing free will to shape our own destiny, nurture our souls and by our own labor serve first our own good - then, strive to serve others as well as ourselves. I find, even selflessness, necessary for a time, has its limit.

One finds Enlightenment not to be as expected. Thinking at first one would always exist in a spontaneous flow of grace, one may find that is not to be the case. In the aftermath of Enlightenment, after an initial honeymoon period of varying length, essentially a state of grace, one gets to try on the many truths and precepts one has gained. The new task then is to find a new way of living and being and serving, as an enlightened free being. As a newly freed being, one must . . . decide.

May 30, Year 2, Day 8

By Tara, all rights reserved by Bhagavan Fdn.

AFTER ENLIGHTENMENT, WHAT?

---

will be excerpted one page at a time on this site free and in full. The final book version will be published and made available in the BookStore and elsewhere at a later date.

AFTER ENLIGHTENMENT, WHAT?

by Tara

Endless Journey Of The Cosmic Self

The more in light, I expand The more selves, I find I am.
Is it not my duty to Enlighten All the 'me' that I can?

May 30, 2010 - Y2 Day 8

From the book; AFTER ENLIGHTENMENT WHAT?, all rights reserved by Bhagavan Fdn.